

Fasten the supporting bars on the Micscreen and screw the parts together as shown. Tighten the nut with the screw-wrench.

Bring the Micscreen-clip to the desired position on the microphone stand. Adjust the supporting bar together with the attached Micscreen by pushing the supporting bar into the opening of the clip. Fasten the components with the metal handles of the screw clip.

Depending on the recording situation, employ one or two microphones and choose the corresponding microphone holder.
