

About the Author/Credits

Introduction

Chapter 1 Theory

The major scale

Intervals

Chapter 2 Chord Tones

Chapter 3 For the Beginner

The double-stop shuffle

Chapter 4 The Pentatonic Sound

The major pentatonic scale

Chapter 5 Let's Play Bluegrass

Chapter 6 Slow Improvising

Chapter 7 Stationary Improvising

Chapter 8 Let's Improvise

Troubleshooting

Easy playing

Chapter 9 The Spices

The minor 3rd

The minor 7th

The perfect 4th

The major 7th

Connection lines

Chapter 10 Mixing the Ideas

Chapter 11 One-Bar Licks

Chapter 12 "Last Line" Licks

Chapter 13 The G Chord

Chapter 14 The C Chord

Chapter 15 The F Chord

Chapter 16 Other Major Chords

The B_f chord

The B chord

Transposing "up the neck"

Chapter 17 Double-stops

The structures

Chapter 18 "Playing Around" with Double-stops

The movements

The picked slide

Ghost notes

Chapter 19 Other Double-Stops Ideas

Connecting the structures
Other double-stops shapes
Chord numbers
Harmonizing the major-scale
Major-scale movements
Chord related movements
The minor 7th sound

Chapter 20 Minor Chords

The dorian scale
The minor scale
The minor (no 6th) scale
The phrygian scale
The (IV m) chord

Chapter 21 Minor Keys

The minor scale
Horizontal playing
Symmetrical sequences
Adjustable playing
Vertical playing
The V chord in a minor key
The harmonic minor scale
The harmonic minor (no 6th) scale

Chapter 22 The Blues Sound

The blues scale
Mountain minor
The extended blues scale

Chapter 23 Monroe Style

"Anticipating the tonic"

The f 7 as leading tone

Down strokes

Chapter 24 Cross Picking

The two-string cross picking technique

The three-string cross picking technique

Chapter 25 The Melody

Chapter 26 Other Spices

The major scale

The mixolydian scale

Neighbor tones

Chromatic

The minor-pentatonic scale

The relative minor

Chord substitutions

Chapter 27 Hot Licks

Triplets

Large movements

Rhythmic displacement

Chapter 28 How to Simplify a Lick

Skipping tones

Staying on chord tones

Limited improvisation

Lick replacement

Conclusion

Appendix